July 12, 2018: The Aide's Role in Understanding Hospice and End of Life Care
(registration deadline is July 6)

Speaker: Cindy Morgan, RN, MSN, CHC, CHPN

What does End-of-Life and Hospice care really mean? This presentation will clarify the meaning of hospice and EOL care. Some of the misconceptions about hospice and EOL care will be discussed and explained. Participants will have a better understanding of helping patients live until they die and strategies that will promote quality of life at the end of life for patients and families.

August 9, 2018: The Aide's Role in Caring for Older Adults in Home Care
(registration deadline is August 3)

Speaker: Kathie Smith, RN, BSN

According to Healthy People 2020 from the Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion, as Americans live longer, growth in the number of older adults is unprecedented. In 2014, 46.3 million of the US population was aged 65 or older and is projected to reach 98 million by 2060. In 2012, 60% of older adults managed 2 or more chronic conditions. Many of the clients you provide care for in the home will be older adults with chronic conditions such as heart, lung, kidney disease, diabetes, cancer or other conditions. This presentation will focus on providing care for the older population.

September 13, 2018: The Aide's Role in Quality Improvement in Home Care
(registration deadline is September 7)

Speaker: Jane Garrett, RN, BSN, MHSA

What is QAPI? This session will describe the requirement for home health and hospice agencies to conduct Quality Assessment and Performance Improvement (QAPI) activities including a family satisfaction survey. How your agency performs on these measures is available to the public. In-home aides will learn how they play a role in supporting QAPI.

October 11, 2018: The Aide's Role in HIPAA and Confidentiality
(registration deadline is October 5)

Speaker: Michelle White, DNP, RN, CNL

This workshop will focus on assisting your In-Home Aides in understanding HIPAA and confidentiality guidelines. This workshop will offer practical tips to ensure that the para-professional adheres to the required privacy standards. Also included: the impact of social media such as Facebook, My Space, YouTube and cell phones, text messages, etc.

November 8, 2018: The Aide's Role in Managing Stress in the Workplace
(registration deadline is November 2)

Speaker: Kathie Smith, RN, BSN

Stress is the body's reaction to any change that requires an adjustment or response. The body reacts to these changes with physical, mental, and emotional responses. You can experience stress from your environment, your body, your thoughts. Even positive life changes such as a promotion, or the birth of a child produce stress. Taking care of yourself is an important part of your overall wellbeing and stress management is a component of that. This presentation will cover tips on managing stress.

December 13, 2018: The Aide's Role in Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder
(registration deadline is December 7)

Speaker: Cindy Morgan, RN, MSN, CHC, CHPN

An estimated 8% of Americans or 24.4 million people – have PTSD at any given time. Learn the risk factors related to PTSD, how to best work with your patients who have PTSD and strategies to help promote their best quality of life by attending this webinar.

April 11, 2019: The Aide's Role in Professionalism and Work Ethic in Home Care
(registration deadline is April 5)

Speaker: Kathie Smith, RN, BSN

Providing care in a setting that enables one-to-one care offers opportunities for the client to be able to stay in their home and for the In-home aide to build strong relationships with the client and family. These relationships can feel rewarding to both the client and the In-home aide. While having that positive and caring relationship is important to the client's care, it is also important to remember that as an employee of an agency and as a home care provider in the home, certain standards need to be upheld. These standards help you to maintain a professional relationship with the client and family. This presentation will cover professionalism for the In-home aide.

May 9, 2019: The Aide's Role in Understanding Legal Issues for the Nurse Assistant (registration deadline is May 3)

Speaker: Cindy Morgan, RN, MSN, CHC, CHPN

No health care provider is immune from the potential for legal issues. When providing care for patients it must be done in a legal and ethical manner. This presentation will list ethical principles we should consider when delivering care as well as the more common allegations such as negligence, assault and battery and abuse that Nurse Aides should understand. Increased knowledge promotes adherence to standards of care and compliance with regulations and your agency's policies and procedures.

June 13, 2019: The Aide's Role in Understanding CVAs
(registration deadline is June 7)

Speaker: Jane Garrett, RN, BSN, MHSA
